

HOLIDAY PARTY 2013

There was romance, great food, a troubadour, yuletide carols and even a little hint of the next generation of Tuscans at the club's Christmas party on Dec. 15.

Marlene Taevs (above, middle) read from her new novel An Apartment in Venice. Then we were entertained by The Tuscan Trio: club president Audrey Perino and her two pals Eliza DiGiulio (above, right) and her sister Olivia. Then our resident Shakespeare expert showed that he knows his 1970s folk/rock, too. Jimmie Moglia (below, left) serenaded the group with his guitar. We finished off the afternoon with a tasty potluck and some holiday standards.
